

MIA DIRIR

Actress | Singer

NON-UNION

PROFILE

Mia Dirir (pronounced 'dih-rare') is an American actress and singer from Dallas, Texas. She is of East African descent. Dirir's love of acting began while playing the character Beneatha 'Bennie' Young in a local production of the stage play 'A Raisin in the Sun'. As the years went on, her passion for the craft remained, which led to her deciding to pursue an acting career. She trains with renowned Texas-based acting coach Nancy Chartier and attended the University of Texas at Arlington and Texas Wesleyan University where she earned Bachelor's and Master's degrees, respectively.

STATISTICS

Hair	Black
Eyes	Brown
Height	5'4
Voice	Mezzo-Soprano

CONTACT

miad2920@gmail.com
Dallas, Texas 75204

FILM / TV

Stolen Beauty	Supporting Lead/"Madison"	Sophia L Ellis, dir.
---------------	---------------------------	----------------------

STAGE

A Raisin in the Sun	Cast	C.A. Roberson Theatre
Bye Bye Birdie	Ensemble	Center Stage Theatre
A Streetcar Named Desire (Stage Reading)	Cast	Center Stage Theatre

TRAINING

Meisner Method, Scene Study (Ongoing)	Nancy Chartier Studios
Meisner Method, Cold Read (Ongoing)	Nancy Chartier Studios
Meisner Method, Memorization (Ongoing)	Nancy Chartier Studios
Audition Technique, Film & TV	Marci Liroff
Improvisation	Stomping Ground Comedy Theatre
Acting I: Scene Study	John Windsor-Cunningham
Acting I: Monologues	John Windsor-Cunningham
Theatre Arts I & II	University of Texas at Arlington
Bachelor's Degree	University of Texas at Arlington
Master's Degree	Texas Wesleyan University

SKILLS

Dialects | American - Southern Accent, African - East Accent, British Accent
Music | Advanced Singing, Advanced Recording, Advanced Performing